

crochet reflections cowl

Use your scraps and Kreininik yarns to crochet a dressy winter wrap.

materials needed:

For the carry-along fibers:

- Two 25-yard spools of Kreininik Reflective Yarn
- Kreininik Blending Filament, one 50m spool in each desired color (for example, we used shades of red: 061 Ruby, 003V Vintage Red, and 003L Robot Red)
- Kreininik Ombre, several 15m spools or a 300m cone of desired color (we used 1400 Misty Scarlet)
- Kreininik Twist, one cone, in your choice of color

For the base fibers:

Scraps of yarn you may have from leftover projects, or from sale bins at your local yarn store

- Crochet hook, any size to match the weight of the base yarns.

instructions:

This simple project is worked triple crochet stitch, however, you can actually use any stitch you'd like...the secret to its style is the mix of fibers. So begin with a base yarn and one of the carry-along fibers together in your hand. Chain stitch for the desired width of your cowl. Turn, and work triple crochet (or your favorite stitch) back down the row. Continue as desired until you run out of yarn, want to switch yarns, or after you've reached a certain area (like 3 inches). Stitch this project while you are watching tv, and you will be done in no time.

We picked red colors for the holiday, but this cowl can be worked in any combination to match outfits, sports teams, or a total scrap-bag color scheme. Have fun with the thread combinations.

Note: the Kreininik yarns selected for this project are all soft metallics, plus they are hand and machine washable.

Kreininik SPOTLIGHT

www.kreininik.com

Kreininik Reflective Yarn is a lightweight thread featuring light-reflecting properties. With a camera flash or carlight, a project/design is luminously lit. Use as a carry-along thread in crochet and knitting. Available on spools or cones.
